

Excerpt from History and Genealogy of a Branch of the Family of Kin Having, for a number of years, a desire to learn something of the ancestry of the Kinnes of Onondaga County, the writer of the following glance sketches, has, after considerable time, some correspondence, with a measure of trouble and patient investigation, obtained the facts herein recorded. At the outset he may be permitted the expression of a candid sentiment that he has been impelled to this pleasant and yet somewhat difficult undertaking, more by a desire to snatch from unmerited, but inevitable oblivion, the facts, incidents and personal histories of our kinsmen, who are fast passing from the scenes that make history, to the unknown and unending future, than by an undue or personal family pride. If, in the faithful record of facts, found in these pages, there shall appear any merit attaching itself to deeds of daring, or of patriotism, or of patient submission, where submission was a virtue, or of Christian zeal and labor, of the more common virtues in humbler walks of life, such merit may be grateful to any of the kindred, whose eye may chance to rest on this humble attempt to record and preserve some of their history.
